COURT ORDERS OIL LEASES ANNULLED

TEAPOT DOME RETURNS TO THE U. S. GOVERNMENT

The Teapot Dome's Millions of Barrels of Oil Go Back to Uncle Sam—The United States Supreme Court On Monday Cancelled the Lease Given Harry F. Sinclair's Mammoth Oil Company, Which Was the Starting Point of the Oil Scandal Investigation of 1923-24.

Within a week of his trial on a criminal conspiracy charge growing out of the lease of Teapot Dome, Harry F. Sinclair lost in the supreme court Monday at Washington his fight to retain possession of that naval reserve in Wyoming.

In ordering the return of the vast petroleum field to the government, the highest court held that "all the facts and circumstances require" a finding that the lease and agreement attending its transfer were "made fraudulently by means of a collusion and conspiracy" between the wealthy oil operator and Albert B. Fall as interior secretary.

Fall will come to trial with Sinclair next Monday in the District of Columbia supreme court and in asking for their conviction of conspiracy to defraud the government, special oil counsel will present to the trial jury substantially the same set of facts upon which the U. S. supreme court predicted its findings.

Some surprise was manifest that the court handed down its decision in advance of the criminal trial, but the ruling itself was what had been previously had found for the government in the equally celebrated case expected since the highest tribunal naval oil reserve in California to Ed involving the lease of the Elk Hills ward L. Doheny.

As a net result of these decisions, the government gets back the two oil fields which passed from its possession nearly six years ago under circumstances which aroused the senate and led finally to an investigation disclosing a scandal which literally rocked the country.

Besides recovering the oil fields, the government gets back the two oil fields which passed from its possession nearly six years ago under circumstances which aroused the senate and led finally to an investigation disclosing a scandal which literally rocked the country.

Besides recovering the oil fields, the government obtained approximately $13,000,000 from Doheny, and naval exerts figured out roughly that it will be enriched by approximately $5,200,000 by the Sinclair decision besides obtaining storage tanks and oil at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, placed there for the navy by Sinclair under the terms of the lease.

Disposition of and compensation for the storage tanks, pipe line, pumping station and other improvements placed on Teapot Dome by Sinclair's company and a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co., of Indiana, is a question which congress must decide the court held.

"The tanks, pipe line and other improvements put upon the reserve for the purpose of taking away its products were not authorized by congress," it was added. "The lease and supplemental agreement were fraudulently made to circumvent the law and to defeat public policy."

Whether Fall was bribed by the payments of liberty bonds he received from Sinclair or other sources during or after the negotiations for the Teapot Dome lease, the supreme court did not undertake to say, since the government did not charge bribery in this case.

Thruout the opinion Justice Butler was severe in condemning Fall. Referring to the $25,000 payment in liberty bonds made to Fall by Sinclair after the former left the Harding administration, the court said that obviously this was "not a straightforward transaction."

Reviewing at some length the organization and operation of the Continental Trading Co., the court called attention that $200,000 in liberty bonds passed thru that concern and came finally into the hands of M. T. Everhart of Pueblo, Colorado, Fall's son-in-law, and that Fall received $70,000 of them and profited from the proceeds of others.

Taking up the circumstances surrounding the negotiation of the lease, the court reviewed the visit of Sinclair to Fall's ranch; Fall's own declaration that he could carry out the leases of the reserves without consulting officials of the navy as to details and the fact that Sinclair obtained quit claims from two oil companies which insisted that they had rights in Teapot Dome, the Prairie Oil and Refining Co., and the Societe Belgo-Americaine Des Petroles Du Wyoming. Sinclair agreed to pay the last company $1,000,000 for the quit claim.

Stress was laid by the court upon the fact that after Fall had delivered the lease to Sinclair he told other applying companies either that he did not want to lease the reserve or would entertain bids for such a lease at a later date.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From Wires By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Youngstown — Curbing of the activities of special police is promised by Police Chief Goodwin following the arrest and beating Sunday of Paul Morris, former member of the board of education and former editor of a Klan newspaper, by a private detective.

Toledo — An armed bandit who assured his five victims he was willing to murder them took between $5000 and $10,000 from the Monroe street and Detroit avenue branch of the Security Savings Bank & Trust Co., Tuesday. Police were unable to learn whether he escaped on foot or in an auto.

Mt. Sterling — The 14 year old son of Jefferson Pollock, of near Mt. Sterling today was suffering from a wound in the right shoulder inflicted by a burglar whom he surprised at work in his father's home.

Cleveland — After laying out her wedding dress, marking several pages in a Bible and hanging a sign on the front door of her home, "no one home for two days, death in the family," Mrs. Angeline Spiro, 25, shot herself, hospital attendants said she will recover.

Findlay — County and state authorities Tuesday were taking steps to stay the spread of infantile paralysis, near here. Since the discovery that a 6 year old child who died Sunday was the victim of infantile paralysis.

40 BUSHEL WHEAT CLUB.

40 bushels of wheat per acre on a 10 acre plot is a very worthy goal for progressive wheat growers to seek. Enrollment time in the 40 bushel Wheat club is now at hand and a cordial invitation is extended to Pickaway county farmers to enroll in this project and compete with wheat production in the state of Ohio. Pickaway county stands first in wheat production in the state of Ohio. May we not have some enrollments in the 40 Bushel Wheat club and uphold our reputation as a wheat growing county. If you wish to enroll or desire more information, get in touch with your County Agent H. S. Lewis. Enrollments will be accepted until November 15.

ENTERTAINMENT

There will be an entertainment at the Community house of the United Brethren church Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock for the juniors, primaries and beginners.

C. C. MORRIS

Passed Away At Home In Ross County --Funeral and Burial At Brown's Chapel.

Charles C. Morris died at his home in South Union township, Ross county, on the Frankfort and Chillicothe pike, Monday afternoon at 4:38 o'clock after a lingering illness.

Had he lived until Wednesday he would have been sixty years of age. He was born in Ross county and was a son of Samuel and Elizabeth Backmon Morris. He was a farmer by occupation and was a member of the Christian church at Clarksburg.

He was united in marriage to Viola Ater and to this union were born six children, two daughters and one son having preceded him in death. He is survived by his wife, three daughters Gladys, at home, Mrs. Mary Taylor and Mrs. Margaret Smith and two brothers and two sisters; James W. and Alfred, of Ross county, and Mrs. Alice Crotty and Mary Ellen Taylor of Springfield.

Funeral services from the Brown chapel church by Rev. Mr. Heacock and interment in the adjoining cemetery Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MONDAY CLUB PROGRAM WAS LITERATURE

The subject of the Monday club program for Monday evening was, Literature: The Short Story in the Making. Essentials of the Short Story were given by Mrs. E. A. Allen; Where Ideas Come From, by Miss Weldon; The Literary Market, by Miss Lowe. The lesson was introduced and interspersed with relative remarks by Mrs. Carl Ritz, the chairman. The Geneva Conference was the topic of current events, which was given by Mrs. W. T. Ulm.

The call to the conference of the southeast district of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs, by Mrs. Morrow of Wellston, was read. This call, in substance is: The Monday club of Circleville invites all federated clubs and includes unfederated clubs, to attend the meeting of the convention of the southeast district to be held in Circleville on November 1 and 2.

Early Paper Making

Papyrus, from which the word paper is derived, is not paper at all, and the beginnings of the paper industry are not traced back to it, but to the genuine paper made by the Chinese, from whom it spread to other races and then to Europe in the twelfth century. About the year 1150 a paper mill was started at Fabriano, Italy, which became the principal center for paper making, continuing to the present day. From Italy the art spread to France and Germany and somewhat later to England.

CLUB PROGRAM ACHEIVEMENT

Members of the "Monroe Champion Clothing" club and the "One Step Higher" Food club will conduct their club achievement program in connection with the Farm Bureau meeting which will be held at the Methodist church, Five Points, Ohio, Friday, October 14, at 7:30 p. m.

The program will be comprised of demonstrations, readings, musical selections and group singing. The boys and girls extend a special invitation to everyone to attend this program.

Let's all attend and support the Boys' and Girls' in this splendid piece of work.

BOOTLEG KING APPEALS FOR COURT ORDER

Claims Wife Made a Deposit of $1,800,000 In Securities In Lansing Bank.

A court order will be asked to force officials of a bank at Lansing, Michigan to disclose contents of a safety deposit box in which George Remus, "bootleg king," declared his wife placed $1,800,000 in securities.

Remus shot and killed his wife, Imogene Remus, in Cincinnati last Thursday.

One of Remus' representatives announced he had found the bank in which Remus said his wife placed the securities, and that he would proceed at once to force bank officials to make contents of the box public.

The officials refused to say whether Mrs. Remus rented the box. George J. Connors, Remus' legal adviser, said that Mrs. Remus had been in Lansing several times and that the bank records would show she had rented the box.

Remus said Mrs. Remus came to Lansing to meet Franklin Dodge. Dodge denied this. He said so far as he knew Mrs. Remus was never in Lansing.

Impure Blood Brings Age

Impurities seeping into the blood fluid from bad or excess food in the digestive tract are the real cause of "old age," according to Dr. Leonard Williams, British physician. They adulterate the "plasma"—the watery yellowish fluid in which the blood's red-and-white corpuscles float—and hinder its waste-removing duties, he says.
Light eating, short fasts and attention to food quality will help postpone old age, Doctor Williams asserts.—Popular Science Monthly.

Has Gay Sports Sweater for Week-End Occasions

Dorothy Mackaill, the "movie" star, who has occasion to spend many week-ends away from home, has her things packed carefully so as to always appear well dressed and yet not be burdened with luggage. In the film, "The Crystal Cup," Miss Mackaill wears a costume that serves the sports and traveling ideas perfectly, as the coat sweater may be added for sports, discarded and worn with silk blouse for another informal costume, and also serves as a smart traveling costume beneath a coat.

Scarf of Some Kind Is Used on Milady's Frock

There is scarcely a dress, or ensemble for that matter, coming from across the seas which does not flaunt a scarf of some kind. Of the out-dooring togs the scarf is an integral factor, never overlooked or missed, but it is equally very much present on day-time dresses and even on evening frocks. It may be of the dress fabric—in fact, is very likely to be when it is accompanying an evening gown of printed chiffon or printed chiffon voile; or it may be of a contrasting material, as is invariably the case when the dress material is plain, for it will sound the color note and often the print high note as well. On some dresses it is frankly supplementary—a happy afterthought; on others it is so much a part of the gown that one almost suspects that the design was worked around it. Is it entirely to Lanvin, who has so persistently backed the Deauville handkerchief, that we owe its popularity, or is it because it is so flattering with its kindly protection against any oncoming traces of the years?

Chic Hats for Autumn Decorated With Posies

Felt and duvetyne flowers are featured on many hats, and small velvet flowers, such as forget-me-nots, are used in great quantity.

Draped toques are being made for fall by many modistes. One little toque of satin has a large bow draped across the back. Another is made of velvet, and still another is made of rayon jersey.

Inserts of georgette, lace, embroidered patches or appliques are used a great deal on all types of hats.

A new bronze-brown shade is seen in quite a number of soft velours. Cocoa rose is another new color, this being a dark shade of the bois de rose. Dark red and raspberry are very good shades.

Satin Faille Rustles With New Fall Silks

Although velvet may be said to be the brightest star at the moment in the silky heavens, there are others steadily gaining in importance. And one of the latest aspirants for stellar honors is satin faille. As the thoughts of the French creators turn toward fall and winter they seem to be centering on the ribbed weaves. Premet has launched a new satin-back ribbed silk similar to marocain and very similar to satin faille. Premet stresses the coppery brown, cadet blue and beige in this silk, which, by the way, tailors with all the finesse of a very fine woolen, a fact not to be lightly overlooked during the season of suits and tailor types.

Gray Fashionable

Gray is one of the most fashionable shades, and is worn for sports often with a touch of contrasting color. At luncheon time gray ensembles are seen, and it is equally popular for the afternoon and evening frock.

Lime for Alfalfa Year in Advance Is Favored

The best time to lime in preparation for alfalfa seeding is a year in advance, according to a bulletin in "Liming for Alfalfa," by F. J. Alway and C. O. Rost of the soils division, Minnesota agricultural experiment station. In fact, lime may be applied two or three years in advance of seeding without any loss in beneficial effects.

If, however, one wishes to seed a piece of alfalfa in less than a year, he can get good effects by applying his lime several weeks in advance. The effectiveness, says the bulletin, which is for free distribution on application to the division of publications, University Farm, St. Paul—is much increased by thorough mixing with the soil. Usually lime or ground limestone is best applied after plowing. Then the disking and harrowing in preparation of the seed-bed provides the necessary mixing.

The farmer who decides a year in advance to seed an area to alfalfa, where lime is needed, may very well spread his limestone and then put the field into corn. The limestone will not damage the most sensitive young plants.

Self-Complacency

Self-complacency, to a marked degree, was shown by a woman who, when asked whether her child was more like his father or mother, replied, "Oh, he's more like me. But I rather think it's a pretty good thing, for I don't see that I can complain of myself any."

Foibles of Dickens

Charles Dickens invariably wrote in blue ink on blue paper, as he held the impression that the color of ink and paper greatly facilitated the flow of ideas. Another idiosyncrasy of his was the writing of day and month in full as "January twenty-sixth."

Decline of the Apron
The apron is worn today by the woman who is not ashamed to work, but in earlier centuries it was an article of clothing assumed by aristocracy and even royalty. The word has undergone a curious decapitation; it was originally "a napron," but the "n" became affixed to the wrong letter. The opposite process occurred in "an ekename," which was eventually transformed into "a nickname."

GEORGE REMUS BOOTLEG KING

George Remus, one-time millionaire bootlegger, still insistent that every action of his eventful career had been motivated by principle, today declared he was ready to pay with his life, if necessary, for killing his estranged wife, Mrs. Imogene Holmes Remus.

"If it should cost me my life, I would pay the penalty rather than go on the way I have felt the past two and a half years," Remus said in an interview today discussing the events of Thursday when he shot down his wife after pursuing her in a taxicab. "Now at least it is over," Remus added with a sigh of finality.

Remus drummed on the table in the visitors' room of the city prison as he talked of his feelings since the first break in his marital life.

The one-time powerful bootlegger who organized a rum-running business with ramifications throughout the middle west and which poured in profits estimated at over six million dollars vigorously denounced Franklin Dodge, a former department of justice agent who also was named co-respondent in Remus' answer to his wife's divorce petition.

"I have thought of it night and day," Remus said as he talked of his wife and of Dodge. "It came between me and business conferences—important things I should say and do. It was the pretense, the hypocrisy."
"I have had to follow them here and there, driven by this compulsion, this feeling of outrage."

As he spoke, Remus dressed neatly in a blue serge suit, apparently was attempting to control himself and speak calmly.

Remus, who has announced he will rely on his own wits in his defense of the charge of murder placed against him, refused to offer any explanation of what tactics he will pursue in court.

His only comment is that he will leave his fate to "a jury of my peers" and that he is anxious "to get it over with as quickly as possible."

An inquest into the killing of Mrs. Remus probably will be held today, Coroner F. C. Swing said. All witnesses, including Charles Klug, who drove Remus' car in pursuit of Mrs. Remus, on Thursday, will testify and Ruth Remus, who was with her mother when the fatal shooting occurred, will be on the stand.

The grand jury will take up the case either Monday or Tuesday and a speedy indictment is expected.

St. Rita
St. Rita was canonized in 1900. She is called the saint of the impossible, and is generally pictured holding a bunch of roses. When she was dying, it was in the winter, and cold, and she asked one of the nuns at her bedside to go to the garden to pick her a rose. Those about her bed thought that her mind was wandering, but one of them, as a matter of form, went to the garden, and, behold, on one of the bushes was a beautiful rose.

The MAYTAG has been given first place by the housewives of America!

For homes without electricity, the Maytag is available with in-built gasoline motor.

THE MAYTAG test—free home trial on a week's washing—has convinced women everywhere of the Maytag's unrivalled washing ability. A million women have proved to themselves that the Maytag does a week's wash in an hour—all garments cleansed without hand-rubbing. They have satisfied themselves that the Maytag is a washer beyond comparison. They have purchased, thus placing sales of Maytags at record breaking heights and establishing without question the Maytag's position as first among all washers.

The HEART of the HEATROLA that floods your whole house
with COMFORT

THIS is the Intensi-Fire
Air Duct—the heart of the Heatrola's double air-circulating system.

Built tight in the path of the flames, this unique device floods much of the heat from an ordinary stove or furnace flues to escape up an chimney. That is why Heatrola floods every room in the house with even, healthful heat. Why it leaves no "cold spots" or "hot spots." Why chilly upstairs rooms become just as toasty warm as the living-room.

Come in, or invite us to call—and let us demonstrate how the beautiful Heatrola will fill your entire house with cheerful warmth and save on an average of 45% in fuel.

100 Shoes—Purse, $20.00
Individual scoring to count.

AMUSEMENTS
That monumental screen epic, "The Big Parade," starring John Gilbert, was shown for the first time here last night at the Met theater before a deeply impressed and enthusiastic audience of ex-soldiers, regular theatergoers and many who seldom attend a motion picture. Without exception they declared it the greatest motion picture ever exhibited in Circleville. It is a King Vidor production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.
"The Big Parade" is a simple story, simply told. Jim Apperson, an easy-going, likeable young fellow enlists at the outbreak of the war, leaving his family and sweetheart. He becomes deeply attached to his two buddies, Slim and Bull, played delightfully by Karl Dane and Tim O'Brien. While stationed behind the lines, he falls in love with a French peasant girl, Melisande, and at the conclusion of the war goes home to find conditions changed. It would be unfair to futures audiences to tell the rest of the story. How he works out his destiny is the basis of a powerful and human climax.
King Vidor has reached an exalted cinematic goal with this picture. The film has a martial swing and the rhythm of blended comedy and drama. Its romance and heart interest awaken a response in every spectator in the audience.
John Gilbert is superb as the American doughboy; he has never done anything finer. Renee Adoree plays the part of the French Melisande to perfection. There is something in the love scenes between these two that makes the heart leap. Frequently terrible in its swiftness and emotional quality, "The Big Parade" is not all filled with the almost continuous laughter. The second half shows, more clearly than anything else ever has, its grim realities.

REMUS

Said to Have Tried To Buy the Old Knecht Brewery.

It developed today that George Remus "millionaire bootleg king" now under arrest for the murder of his wife, at one time sought to buy the old Knecht brewery in this city.

A prominent local attorney carried on the negotiations, which were unsatisfactory, and did not know the true name of his client until some weeks later.

The attempt was made several years ago, while Remus was out on a stay of sentence to Atlanta for violation of federal prohibition laws, pending court action on error proceedings.

Remus was accompanied by two men while in this city, one of whom was acquainted with the local lawyer. For obvious reasons, the attorney asked that his name not be mentioned when reciting the story to the News-Advertiser today.

Remus, who was introduced under an assumed name, asked the local attorney to confer with the Scioto Brewing Company, in regard to possible purchase. The company, which had taken over the old Knecht plant, was composed of local men.

Accordingly the attorney got in touch with the local men, who set a figure. The attorney remembers it as "something like $20,000." The price was more than Remus, who was supposed to be strictly a "hard liquor man," desired to pay. Further negotiations were unavailing and eventually Remus and his two companions returned to Cincinnati.

"Some weeks later I saw a picture of Remus in a newspaper account of his incarceration in prison," the attorney explained. "It resembled my client." Shortly afterward, I saw the acquaintance who had introduced him to me, and he admitted that my client had been the bootleg king."—Chillicothe News-Advertiser.

The American Spirit

President Green of the American Federation of Labor was condemning soviet Russia and labor's proposed affiliation with it.

"I hate," he ended, "the soviet spirit of envy and destruction. Give me its direct opposite, the American spirit that says:

"Hats off to the past, coats off to the future!"

Among the Missing

Sergeant—Well, madam, we'll do our best, but if your husband hasn't been heard from in twelve years—

Wife—Oh, it's not him I'm worrying about. What I want is the sample of the ribbon I sent him out to match.

Mabel—She's just flirting.
Mae—I think it's much more serious. I saw her inspecting his car.

Fed by Thirteen Rivers

The city of Jackson, Mich., uses electricity generated by the flow of water from 13 rivers. Memorializing the service of all these rivers to the citizens of the community, a bottle containing water from all of them was broken over the entrance of a new headquarters building of the electric light and power company recently. This odd touch in the ceremony by which the building was christened attracted a great deal of attention in Michigan.

When They Heard the News

The Girl—What did your people say when you announced our engagement?
The Boy—Mother exclaimed "mad!" and the governor said the same—backwards.

The Real Trouble

Hub—I wish, my love, you wouldn't finish my sentences for me.
Wife—You talk so slow, dear.
Hub—That isn't the trouble—you listen altogether too fast.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Matter of Meals

While in the largest cities it is a fact that the heaviest meal of the day occurs at night, it is also a fact that in the smaller cities, of 200,000 population and below, the heaviest meal occurs at noon. The reason for this is, of course, that in the largest cities there is an exodus at evening to the suburbs, where the family reunion is held over the dinner table, whereas in the smaller cities people are able to go home to midday lunch.

2000 Miles Farther in 25,243 Less Minutes

THE public thinks of such trains as the "Century" and the "Chief" as being fast. They are.

But it requires over 65,600 minutes for 45 of the world's fastest trains, going in all directions from Chicago, to run 40,000 miles. And these trains get MANY fresh engines, at regular intervals, in order to make this remarkable speed.

Contrast this phenomenal performance of three Auburn fully equipped STOCK cars that ran 42,000 miles in less than 40,435 minutes (exact duplicates in every way of the Auburn cars every Auburn dealer has).

Here is an amazing record of performance, endurance and value never before approached, let alone equalled.

No change of engines for these three stock cars. No favoritism, but the hardest kind of driving, continuously, under American Automobile Association official supervision, on the Atlantic City Speedway.

To even RUN 42,000 continuous miles, at much less speed, would be a tremendous tribute to ANY automobile's efficiency and stamina. That is farther mileage and infinitely harder punishment than any three average private owners impose on their cars in a whole year's service.

But no other car has ever survived an official test of this magnitude and distance. Three Auburn cars DID it, at speeds that overwhelmingly break all records.

Not only that, but we KNOW that Auburn cars can go much farther at even FASTER speed.

The purpose of this test was not speed, altho that is sensational and establishes Auburn supreme in this respect.

The real purpose was to prove in the acid test of this proving grounds that Auburn cars ARE better designed, better built, more efficient, and more durable.

In these highly competitive days of extravagant claims, the public is entitled to the unvarnished truth about the relative value of motor cars.

It is what a car DOES and not what its builders SAY that determines VALUE.

Drive an Auburn Straight Eight and if it does not sell itself you will not be asked to buy.

THE AMERICAN CONSTITUTION

Declared To Be Most Important Document in the World.

The American Constitution is one of the most important documents the world has ever had. Under it a handful of individualists and self-centered political bodies became welded together, to flourish and prosper into the nation that it is, the United States of today. Under it a few thousands of people have become more than a hundred million living together harmoniously.

The Constitution has stood the test of time. Through the years those guiding the destinies of the Republic have found in this remarkable document ample authority with which to meet all problems. Those who framed it 140 years ago were only ordinary human beings, yet in their wisdom or in a wisdom that came to them during the constitutional convention, produced a document which has withstood all onslaught and which has met every test despite the constant change in domestic life.

Yet, as late as 1924, Dr. James J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education, said: "I do not believe there are more than a very limited number of persons, perhaps a hundred, who really know what is in the Constitution of the U. S." Here, then, is a condition which demands attention. During the "Know the Constitution Week" and every other week, through the schools, through public meetings, through the churches and public-spirited organizations, the task of spreading knowledge regarding this fundamental document should be carried forward unceasingly.—Washington Post.

Porcelain Distinction
The first considerable porcelain works in England were at Bow and Chelsea. The most usual marks of Bow are an anchor and dagger combined in various ways, while Chelsea is characterized by three unglazed spots on the bottom of the piece.

Bell's Great Antiquity
The oldest musical instrument is the bell, according to Liberty. Bronze bells have been found in Assyrian excavations and in mummy cases, centuries old, in Egypt.

HARTMAN THEATER

The regular fall and winter season at the Hartman theater begins this week with the offering of New York's latest mystery melodrama "FOG" from the pen of John Willard, author of "The Cat and Canary." This thrill of trillers comes to Columbus direct for an entire season's run at the National theater in New York with the original cast and production. The engagement is for the entire week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

For the week beginning Monday, October 17, the Hartman announces one of the most interesting dramas of the entire season, "An American Tragedy" from Theodore Dreiser's celebrated novel of that name. When this play opened last October at the Long Ace theater, New York the critics universally praised the stage version of the powerful and terrific Dreiser story. "The outstanding serious play of the season," said Berns Mantle of the New York News. And the Times Reviewer wrote, "The most outspoken enthusiasm of the season swept the play on to triumph."

It is the Manhattan company that takes the stage at the Hartman, Morgan Farley has the role of Clyde Grif fiths the son of street corner evangelists, and Ruth Nugent of the famed Nugent family of actors portrays Roberta, and factory girl.

Patrick Kerney dramatized the work and twelve massive settings are used to depict the story with every detail exactly the same as witnessed during the long and successful run in New York. Mail orders are now being accepted for this most unusual and interesting attraction.

During the week beginning October 24, Patricia Collings will be seen at the Hartman in Sir James M. Barrie's best comedy "What Every Woman Knows," which recently broke all records with a run of 277 performances at the Bijou theater, New York. In her support William A. Brady is sending to Columbus the entire New York company, including Kenneth MacKenna, Ludsden Hare, Selena Johnson, Molly Hicks, Eugene Weber, John Robb and Edward Loeffler.

The management of the Hartman theater personally endorses each of the three plays announced and suggests early mail order reservations.

The Rarer Sort

Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service, said at the Army and Navy club in Washington the other day:

"Young Colonel Lindbergh is remarkable for the nonmercenary character of his ambition. He's ambitious to do better and better work, but he cares nothing about money."

"Now most of us are like Jones. A man said to Jones one day:

"Jones, what would you do if you had $1,000,000?"

"Do?" said Jones. "Why, I'd do the same as anybody else would do, of course. I'd overwork myself into dyspeptic neurasthenia trying to make it $2,000,000."

LIGHTNING DEMONSTRATION
A demonstration in the manufacture of lighting will be given by representatives of the Ohio Telephone company Tuesday night, October 11, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., in the high school auditorium in cooperation with The Citizens Telephone company and Ohio Utilities company.

The lighting, 800,000 volts of it—will be used to show the effect of lighting discharges into aerial wire plants of the telephone and electric companies. Officials and employees of all wire-using companies in Circleville, Ohio and surrounding territory have been invited to attend.

The Ohio Bell men who will give the demonstration are E. C. Briggs, R. A. Taylor and J. H. Bigham, of Circleville. They will show the lighting in action, the damage it does and the methods to use in avoiding this damage.

Pupils of the high school and the public are invited to attend. This demonstration is free.

He Never Knew The Value Of His Discovery

IN America's tribute to Columbus, there is true appreciation of his achievement. His daring and his genius changed the course of world affairs. Others who followed had his example as a guide.

But Columbus himself could not have known the real value of his feat. His voyage, 435 years ago--his defiance of superstitions and ignorance--his winning to this hemisphere--were great accomplishments.

Columbus showed that vision and faith can overcome all obstacles and accomplish wonders. Here is a lesson for each one today --in business, in home making, in life itself.

HOW SWINDLERS MARK THEIR PREY

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

IN the field of fake investments suckers are graded according to their reaction to the appeal of glittering schemes. A name or a sucker list of investors may have a valuation anywhere from zero to $100.

W. R. MOREHOUSE

If your name is on the list and it is known that you invariably "Investigate Before you Invest," your name is checked to indicate that you are too hard to sell to be worth cultivating further, but if you invest first and investigate afterward, your name is checked to indicate that you are easily swindled and for this reason your name is worth $100,—not to you, but to the owner of the list, for the names of those who invest without investigating are choice prospects and sell readily to promoters.

Certain names on a sucker list are checked to indicate "easy picking," and by this is meant that in addition to being ignorant on investments, those checked are not disposed to ask advice of their banker but go ahead and invest in anything from gold bricks to stock in some proposed company for the exploration of diamond fields on Mars.

Those whose names are listed are what might be called marked investors—investors who have been marked to have their savings taken from them by unwarranted promises of fabulous riches.

If your name is on the sucker list and you are receiving "wild-cat" literature, be on your guard, for not only one but a whole tribe of "wild-cat" promoters are hot on your trail. If you are skeptical as to the extent to which they will go in order to sell you an interest in their fake schemes the following should prove illuminating, as it itemizes the literature and stationery sent to each name on a certain sucker list of investors. This literature was mailed in 91 different mailings. Each person received:

- 125 envelopes
- 13 one-page letters
- 22 two-page letters
- 6 three-page letters
- 2 four-page letters
- 52 fake newspapers containing fake write-ups
- 39 pieces of highly lurid prospectus material
- 34 return addressed postal cards
- 72 subscription blanks

making a total of 363 pieces of literature weighing 11 pounds and costing approximately $50. In addition to this there were numerous telephone calls and personal interviews.

A person receiving a flood of lit-

In reaching for more, you may lose what you have.

erature calling attention to certain investment chances has a good reason for watching his step lest he weaken and invest and finally lose his savings. If you are receiving "wild-cat" investment literature it is a good indication that your name is on a sucker list and that it, with other names, is being sold to irresponsible promoters and consequently you may expect to continue to receive literature of the get-rich-quick variety from different sources. If you have ever invested in any one of the investments offered you may rest assured that you are "easy" and it is reasonably certain that as long as you live you will receive bunkum literature.

Some people are so foolish as to feel complimented that so much attention is shown them by men having investments to offer. The facts are, instead of a compliment being paid them, it is a reflection on their ability to judge between a good investment and one of the bunkum variety.

If you want to draw the attention of dealers in sucker lists and of promoters of various kinds, let it be known that you have a savings bank account or good securities and you will be the object of a very vigorous campaign to relieve you of those savings.

It is always well to remember that the irresponsible promoter specializes on swindling savings depositors, exchanging his fake investment for their bank account, which is always worth 100 cents on the dollar.

Of the numerous bait schemes used to swindle the public the trading of equities in real estate is among the most successful from the promoter's standpoint.

From the owner's standpoint a trade usually means getting into deeper water financially—going further into debt.

Here's how it works. If you have an equity in a piece of property, which equity you would like to be relieved of, some promoter will offer to give you credit for your equity on the purchase price of another piece of property or on the purchase of certain hot air stocks.

In the first place, the swindler actually allows you nothing for your equity as he marks up the price of what he is selling you a like amount—with the result that you lose your equity on one hand and get yourself into a less desirable deal on the other.

Proceed slowly. If you are approached with a proposition to trade an equity. It may not be exactly what you prefer, but holding the equity is far ahead of holding the sack after some swindler has dealt with you.

CONTESTS AND BETTER FARMING

By D. H. OTIS
American Bankers Association

Much interest has been aroused over the country by ton pig litter contests. In a number of instances these litters have even exceeded two tons. If brood sows were developed so as to produce ton litters, it would be possible to obtain from each litter at least 1,500 pounds dressed meat, which would make it possible to cut down the number of brood sows from 9,000,000 to 6,000,000, a saving of 3,000,000 head.

Egg production per hen is today exceedingly low, amounting to only 56 eggs per year. Under the direction of the colleges of agriculture there have been carried on tests with demonstration farms which show it is easily possible to have flocks able to produce an average of 135 eggs per hen, or more than double the present production. If this were done throughout the United States, we could dispense with 239,000,000 hens, and still maintain the present production of eggs.

The importance and significance of quality production in our live stock is well illustrated in some figures taken from Wisconsin, where over 5,000 cows belonging to cow testing associations have made definite records. Results are shown in the following:

No. of Cows	Av. Lbs. Butterfat	Total Cost	Prod.
1,111.....	203	$98.60	$ 38
1,476.....	250	107.00	16.00
1,226.....	298	115.00	32.00
747.....	345	125.00	47.00
333.....	396	132.00	65.00
122.....	445	146.00	78.00

It will be noticed that with each increase of about 50 pounds per cow of butterfat, there is an increase of $10 to $13 per cow in net profit.

The 250 pound cow, which produces 16 profit, represents 6 per cent interest on $266. The 445 pound cow producing $78 profit represents 6 per cent interest on $1,300. In other words, a 445 pound cow will produce a much net profit as five 250 pound cows. Any surplus in dairy products can readily be taken care of by simply eliminating unprofitable or low-producing cows.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Mrs. Benjamin J. Throop will entertain the Circleville Tuesday evening Bridge club to a luncheon at the Columbus Country club Tuesday noon.

A most enjoyable time was had Sunday, October 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss near Robtown, when a number of relatives and friends gathered to help Francis celebrate his birthday anniversary. A bountiful dinner was served at the noon hour to which all did ample justice. The afternoon was spent in playing games and social conversation and in the evening they all departed to their homes declaring the day well spent and wishing Francis many more happy birthday anniversaries. Those who enjoyed the day were; Mr. and Mrs. William Purcell and sons; George, Ralph, Frank and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Breckenridge and daughter, Doris, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barthelmas and sons Luther and Charles, and daughter, Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor and daughter, Martha, Mrs. Mabel Stewart and daughter, Lois, Miss Ethel Hanning, Miss Helen McAvoy, Miss Daisy Brooks, all of Columbus; Mr. Harry Radcliffe, of Fox; Mrs. William Furniss, Miss Bessie Hinton and daughters; Mary and Bernice and sons, Frederick and Walter, of Darbyville; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Furniss and children; Russell, Esther and Freda, Flo, of Clarksburg and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and little son, Francis Harold.

About 120 guests responded to the invitations sent out to a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Geraldine Dennis, Mrs. Edna Liston and Mrs. Lulu Sheets at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Sheets in honor of Mrs. Clark Dennis, nee Miss Ellen Brigner, a recent bride. After the many beautiful and useful presents were opened a dainty two course luncheon was served by seven girls; Mrs. Helen Phillips, Miss Dorothy Porter, Miss Golda Dawson, Miss Julia Hosler, Miss Charlotte Knapp, Miss Frances Brigner and Miss Geraldine Dennis. The rooms were artistically decorated thruout with the Halloween colors of black and gold paper with marigolds and dahlias in large vase bouquets. A large table was arranged for the display of presents in the center of the dining room over which an umbrella of black and gold crepe paper was suspended from the ceiling resting in a tall black and gold vase of the marigolds and dahlias. The three hostesses wore black dresses with shoulder bouquets of black and gold matching the color scheme. All departed wishing Ellen many years of happiness.

COURT ORDERS OIL LEASES ANNULLED

TEAPOT DOME RETURNS TO THE U. S. GOVERNMENT

The Teapot Dome's Millions of Barrels of Oil Go Back to Uncle Sam—The United States Supreme Court On Monday Cancelled the Lease Given Harry F. Sinclair's Mammoth Oil Company, Which Was the Starting Point of the Oil Scandal Investigation of 1923-24.

Within a week of his trial on a criminal conspiracy charge growing out of the lease of Teapot Dome, Harry F. Sinclair lost in the supreme court Monday at Washington his fight to retain possession of that naval reserve in Wyoming.

In ordering the return of the vast petroleum field to the government, the highest court held that "all the facts and circumstances require" a finding that the lease and agreement attending its transfer were "made fraudulently by means of a collusion and conspiracy" between the wealthy oil operator and Albert B. Fall as interior secretary.

Fall will come to trial with Sinclair next Monday in the District of Columbia supreme court and in asking for their conviction of conspiracy to defraud the government, special oil counsel will present to the trial jury substantially the same set of facts upon which the U. S. supreme court predicted its findings.

Some surprise was manifest that the court handed down its decision in advance of the criminal trial, but the ruling itself was what had been previously had found for the government in the equally celebrated case expected since the highest tribunal naval oil reserve in California to Ed-involving the lease of the Elk Hills ward L. Doheny.

As a net result of these decisions, the government gets back the two oil fields which passed from its possession nearly six years ago under circumstances which aroused the senate and led finally to an investigation disclosing a scandal which literally rocked the country.

Besides recovering the oil fields, the government gets back the two oil fields which passed from its possession nearly six years ago under circumstances which aroused the senate and led finally to an investigation disclosing a scandal which literally rocked the country.

Besides recovering the oil fields, the government obtained approximately $13,000,000 from Doheny, and naval experts figured out roughly that it will be enriched by approximately $5,200,000 by the Sinclair decision besides obtaining storage tanks and oil at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, placed there for the navy by Sinclair under the terms of the lease.

Disposition of and compensation for the storage tanks, pipe line, pumping station and other improvements placed on Teapot Dome by Sinclair's company and a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co., of Indiana, is a question which congress must decide the court held.

"The tanks, pipe line and other improvements put upon the reserve for the purpose of taking away its products were not authorized by congress," it was added. "The lease and supplemental agreement were fraudulently made to circumvent the law and to defeat public policy.

Whether Fall was bribed by the payments of liberty bonds he received from Sinclair or other sources during or after the negotiations for the Teapot Dome lease, the supreme court did not undertake to say, since the government did not charge bribery in this case.

Thruout the opinion Justice Butler was severe in condemning Fall. Referring to the $25,000 payment in liberty bonds made to Fall by Sinclair after the former left the Harding administration, the court said that obviously this was "not a straightforward transaction."

Reviewing at some length the organization and operation of the Continental Trading Co., the court called attention that $200,000 in liberty bonds passed thru that concern and came finally into the hands of M. T. Everhart of Pueblo, Colorado, Fall's son-in-law, and that Fall received $70,000 of them and profited from the proceeds of others.

Taking up the circumstances surrounding the negotiation of the lease, the court reviewed the visit of Sinclair to Fall's ranch; Fall's own declaration that he could carry out the leases of the reserves without consulting officials of the navy as to details and the fact that Sinclair obtained quit claims from two oil companies which insisted that they had rights in Teapot Dome, the Prairie Oil and Refining Co., and the Societe Belgo-Americaine Des Petroles Du Wyoming. Sinclair agreed to pay the last company $1,000,000 for the quit claim.

Stress was laid by the court upon the fact that after Fall had delivered the lease to Sinclair he told other applying companies either that he did not want to lease the reserve or would entertain bids for such a lease at a later date.

Passed Away At Home In Ross County --Funeral and Burial At Brown's Chapel.

Charles C. Morris died at his home in South Union township, Ross county, on the Frankfort and Chillicothe pike, Monday afternoon at 4:38 o'clock after a lingering illness.

Had he lived until Wednesday he would have been sixty years of age. He was born in Ross county and was a son of Samuel and Elizabeth Backmon Morris. He was a farmer by occupation and was a member of the Christian church at Clarksburg.

He was united in marriage to Viola Ater and to this union were born six children, two daughters and one son having preceded him in death. He is survived by his wife, three daughters Gladys, at home, Mrs. Mary Taylor and Mrs. Margaret Smith and two brothers and two sisters; James W. and Alfred, of Ross county, and Mrs. Alice Crotty and Mary Ellen Taylor of Springfield.

Funeral services from the Brown chapel church by Rev. Mr. Heacock and interment in the adjoining cemetery Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MONDAY CLUB PROGRAM WAS LITERATURE

The subject of the Monday club program for Monday evening was, Literature: The Short Story in the Making. Essentials of the Short Story were given by Mrs. E. A. Allen; Where Ideas Come From, by Miss Weldon; The Literary Market, by Miss Lowe. The lesson was introduced and interspersed with relative remarks by Mrs. Carl Ritz, the chairman. The Geneva Conference was the topic of current events, which was given by Mrs. W. T. Ulm.

The call to the conference of the southeast district of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs, by Mrs. Morrow of Wellston, was read. This call, in substance is: The Monday club of Circleville invites all federated clubs and includes unfederated clubs, to attend the meeting of the convention of the southeast district to be held in Circleville on November 1 and 2.

Early Paper Making

Papyrus, from which the word paper is derived, is not paper at all, and the beginnings of the paper industry are not traced back to it, but to the genuine paper made by the Chinese, from whom it spread to other races and then to Europe in the Twelfth century. About the year 1150 a paper mill was started at Fabriano, Italy, which became the principal center for paper making, continuing to the present day. From Italy the art spread to France and Germany and somewhat later to England.

BOOTLEG KING APPEALS FOR COURT ORDER

Claims Wife Made a Deposit of $1,800,000 In Securities In Lansing Bank.

A court order will be asked to force officials of a bank at Lansing, Michigan to disclose contents of a safety deposit box in which George Remus, "bootleg king," declared his wife placed $1,800,000 in securities.

Remus shot and killed his wife, Imogene Remus, in Cincinnati last Thursday.

One of Remus' representatives announced he had found the bank in which Remus said his wife placed the securities, and that he would proceed at once to force bank officials to make contents of the box public.

The officials refused to say whether Mrs. Remus rented the box. George J. Connors, Remus' legal adviser, said that Mrs. Remus had been in Lansing several times and that the bank records would show she had rented the box.

Remus said Mrs. Remus came to Lansing to meet Franklin Dodge. Dodge denied this. He said so far as he knew Mrs. Remus was never in Lansing.

Impure Blood Brings Age
Impurities seeping into the blood fluid from bad or excess food in the digestive tract are the real cause of "old age," according to Dr. Leonard Williams, British physician. They adulterate the "plasma"—the watery yellowish fluid in which the blood's red-and-white corpuscles float—and hinder its waste-removing duties, he says.

Has Gay Sports Sweater for Week-End Occasions

"Dorothy Mackaill, the 'movie' star, who has occasion to spend many week-ends away from home, has her things packed carefully so as to always appear well dressed and yet not be burdened with luggage. Scarf of Some Kind Is Used on Milady's Frock

There is scarcely a dress, or ensemble for that matter, coming from across the seas which does not flaunt a scarf of some kind. Of the out-dooring togs the scarf is an integral factor, never overlooked or missed, but it is equally very much present on day-time dresses and even on evening frocks. It may be of the dress fabric—in fact, is very likely to be when it is accompanying an evening gown of printed chiffon or printed chiffon voile; or it may be of a contrasting material, as is invariably the case when the dress material is plain, for it will sound the color note and often the print high note as well. On some dresses it is frankly supplementary—a happy afterthought; on others it is so much a part of the gown that one almost suspects that the design was worked around it. Is it entirely to Lanvin, who has so persistently backed the Deauville handkerchief, that we owe its popularity, or is it because it is so flattering with its kindly protection against any oncoming traces of the years?

Chic Hats for Autumn Decorated With Posies

Felt and duvetyne flowers are featured on many hats, and small velvet flowers, such as forget-me-nots, are used in great quantity.
Draped toques are being made for fall by many modistes. One little toque of satin has a large bow draped across the back. Another is made of velvet, and still another is made of rayon jersey.
Inserts of georgette, lace, embroidered patches or appliques are used a great deal on all types of hats.
A new bronze-brown shade is seen in quite a number of soft velours. Cocoa rose is another new color, this being a dark shade of the bois de rose. Dark red and raspberry are very good shades.

Satin Faille Rustles With New Fall Silks

Although velvet may be said to be the brightest star at the moment in the silky heavens, there are others steadily gaining in importance. And one of the latest aspirants for stellar honors is satin faille. As the thoughts of the French creators turn toward fall and winter they seem to be centering on the ribbed weaves. Premet has launched a new satin-back ribbed silk smaller to marocain and very similar to satin faille. Premet stresses the coppery brown, cadet blue and beige in this silk, which, by the way, tailors with all the finesse of a very fine woolen, a fact not to be lightly overlooked during the season of suits and tailor types.

Gray Fashionable
Gray is one of the most fashionable shades, and is worn for sports often with a touch of contrasting color. At luncheon time gray ensembles are seen, and it is equally popular for the afternoon and evening frock.

Lime for Alfalfa Year in Advance Is Favored

The best time to lime in preparation for alfalfa seeding is a year in advance, according to a bulletin in "Lim-ing for Alfalfa," by F. J. Alway and C. O. Rost of the soils division, Minnesota agricultural experiment station. In fact, lime may be applied two or three years in advance of seeding without any loss in beneficial effects.
If, however, one wishes to seed a piece of alfalfa in less than a year, he can get good effects by applying his lime several weeks in advance. The effectiveness, says the bulletin, which is for free distribution on application to the division of publications, University Farm, St. Paul—is much increased by thorough mixing with the soil. Usually lime or ground limestone is best applied after plowing. Then the disking and harrowing in preparation of the seed-bed provides the necessary mixing.
The farmer who decides a year in advance to seed an area to alfalfa, where lime is needed, may very well spread his limestone and then put the field into corn. The limestone will not damage the most sensitive young plants.

Self-Complacency
Self-complacency, to a marked degree, was shown by a woman who, when asked whether her child was more like his father or mother, replied, "Oh, he's more like me. But I rather think it's a pretty good thing, for I don't see that I can complain of myself any."

Bankrupt
Sometimes a man who claims he is as good as his word suddenly becomes speechless.—Farm and Fireside.

Foibles of Dickens
Charles Dickens invariably wrote in blue ink on blue paper, as he held the impression that the color of ink and paper greatly facilitated the flow of ideas. Another idiosyncrasy of his was the writing of day and month in full as "January twenty-sixth."

"Invisibility" a Myth
The bureau of standards says that there are invisible inks and stains, but a magnifying glass is not used to detect them. A colored glass is employed for this purpose.

Ancient Insurance Body
The first directors' meeting of the first fire insurance company in this country was held in Philadelphia on May 11, 1752. This was the Philadelphia Contributionship for the Insurance of Houses from Loss by Fire and is still in existence. Benjamin Franklin was a member of the board of directors.

Decline of the Apron
The apron is worn today by the woman who is not ashamed to work, but in earlier centuries it was an article of clothing assumed by aristocracy and even royalty. The word has undergone a curious decapitation; it was originally "a napron," but the "n" became affixed to the wrong letter. The opposite process occurred in "an ekename," which was eventually transformed into "a nickname."

Aiding Grape Growers
Hatching lady bugs in potatoes is aided by electric heat to keep the cellar hatchery at a uniform temperature of 80 degrees Fahrenheit. The bugs are then loosed in grape vineyards where they consume mealy bugs, enemies of the grape crop.

GEORGE REMUS BOOTLEG KING

George Remus, one-time millionaire bootlegger, still insistent that every action of his eventful career had been motivated by principle, today declared he was ready to pay with his life, if necessary, for killing his estranged wife, Mrs. Imogene Holmes Remus.

"If it should cost me my life, I would pay the penalty rather than go on the way I have felt the past two and a half years," Remus said in an interview today discussing the events of Thursday when he shot down his wife after pursuing her in a taxicab. "Now at least it is over," Remus added with a sigh of finality.

Remus drummed on the table in the visitors' room of the city prison as he talked of his feelings since the first break in his marital life.

The one-time powerful bootlegger who organized a rum-running business with ramifications throughout the middle west and which poured in profits estimated at over six million dollars vigorously denounced Franklin Dodge, a former department of justice agent who also was named co-respondent in Remus' answer to his wife's divorce petition.

"I have thought of it night and day," Remus said as he talked of his wife and of Dodge. "It came between me and business conferences—important things I should say and do. It was the pretense, the hypocrisy."

"I have had to follow them here and there, driven by this compulsion, this feeling of outrage."

As he spoke, Remus dressed neatly in a blue serge suit, apparently was attempting to control himself and speak calmly.

Remus, who has announced he will rely on his own wits in his defense of the charge of murder placed against him, refused to offer any explanation of what tactics he will pursue in court.

His only comment is that he will leave his fate to "a jury of my peers" and that he is anxious "to get it over with as quickly as possible."

An inquest into the killing of Mrs. Remus probably will be held today, Coroner F. C. Swing said. All witnesses, including Charles Klug, who drove Remus' car in pursuit of Mrs. Remus, on Thursday, will testify and Ruth Remus, who was with her mother when the fatal shooting occurred, will be on the stand.

The grand jury will take up the case either Monday or Tuesday and a speedy indictment is expected.

St. Rita
St. Rita was canonized in 1900. She is called the saint of the impossible, and is generally pictured holding a bunch of roses. When she was dying, it was in the winter, and cold, and she asked one of the nuns at her bedside to go to the garden to pick her a rose. Those about her bed thought that her mind was wandering, but one of them, as a matter of fact, went to the garden, and, behold, on one of the bushes was a beautiful rose.

An Exception
An English physician says there is no ailment for which golf is not good. What about sore feet?

From Point to Point
Lands end is a point in the extreme southwest corner of Cornwall, England, John O'Groat's house is on Dunearnby head, the northeastern extremity of Scotland. The distance between the two is 994 miles.

Chinese Partial to "3"
The mystic number three and its multiples have always been favorites with the Chinese. This partiality is illustrated in the dimensions of the Temple of Heaven in Peking, where three and nine constantly occur.

Navy's Small Beginning
On March 11, 1794, an act was passed by congress authorizing the building of six warships. This marked the founding of the United States navy, which was eventually to be the strongest in the world.

The MAYTAG has been given first place by the housewives of America!

For homes without electricity, the Maytag is available with in-built gasoline motor.

THE MAYTAG test—free home trial on a week's washing—has convinced women everywhere of the Maytag's unrivalled washing ability. A million women have proved to themselves that the Maytag does a week's wash in an hour—all garments cleansed without hand-rubbing. They have satisfied themselves that the Maytag is a washer beyond comparison. They have purchased, thus placing sales of Maytags at record breaking heights and establishing without question the Maytag's position as first among all washers.

CHINESE WAR FORCES GIGANTIC MIGRATION
Mothers Kill or Desert Babes in Tragic Trek.

Mukden, Manchuria.—The greatest migration in the world today, equal to the great movement of peoples from Europe to the United States when that movement was at its height, except for one or two record years, is now taking place into the vast, unsettled plains of Manchuria. This year practically a million new settlers will shift from overpopulated and war-racked Shantung and Chihli in the "last west" of north Manchuria. This migration, sad to relate, is being financed largely through the sale of young girls into slavery.
Through the ancient gateway in the great wall at Shanhai-kwan and through the modern port of Dairen are pouring a great multitude, estimated now at 10,000 a month, amongst whom are few young girls and practically no young men. The girls have been sold and the youths have been grabbed by the press gangs for one or another of the armies in the field.
Very Old and Very Young Trek.
Middle-aged fathers and mothers, taking with them old parents and young children, form the vast bulk of the northward trek, a flight from certain poverty and almost as certain war into a land where a homestead is to be had for the working of it and a territory that has known no war since the Japanese and the Muscovites grappled a quarter of a century ago.
The governments of the Manchurian provinces are giving a most commendable assistance to the migration. The various railroad lines are assisting in a far-sighted way, charging only a nominal amount for transportation, to the able immigrant and providing free passage for men and women over fifty years old and to all children under ten years. The merchant guilds of the various large towns the migrants pass through have provided free soup kitchens, while the various clubs and associations formed amongst the Shantung and Chihli people who have already established themselves help their fellow provincials in numerous ways.
The newcomers, as a rule, head for the territory lying along the undefined border of inner Mongolia, where a strange situation is being brought about by them. In many cases they acquire crop-sharing leases on land owned by the various princes of Mongolia, but while living on Mongolian-owned soil they are under Chinese jurisdiction, and where they settle becomes Chinese territory. In some cases barren stretches of Mongolian territory are thus left behind the advancing migration, leaving isolated bits of Mongolia in China, while in other cases a Chinese colony will be formed well within Mongolia, thus establishing bits of isolated Chinese territory within the borders of another state.
Tragedies of Trip.
Quite a number of migrants turn eastward and by the way of Kirin travel towards the Korean border and settle in the many fertile valleys of that mountainous country.
This migration of the old and young is, naturally, accompanied by many tragedies. Once the railroad and the free travel is left behind and the old commence to perish from the hardships of the trip, the trails of the newcomers being marked by thousands of graves of parents who have given up. Also, with funds pitifully limited and food scanty, many of the migrants find the burden of caring for their children, especially for the babies in arms, too much. Babes are deserted and left behind in the larger towns traversed by the hundreds. Some mothers, rather than face the risk of their babies not being found and cared for, drop their children from the railroad bridges as the trains cross over rivers. One favorite way of disposing of a baby so that it cannot be overlooked, is to wrap the little one in many folds of newspapers or rags and drop it on the station platform as the train pulls out.

AMUSEMENTS

That monumental screen epic, "The Big Parade," starring John Gilbert, was shown for the first time here last night at the Met theater before a deeply impressed and enthusiastic audience of ex-soldiers, regular theatergoers and many who seldom attend a motion picture. Without exception they declared it the greatest motion picture ever exhibited in Circleville. It is King Vidor production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.
"The Big Parade" is a simple story, simply told. Jim Apperson, an easy-going, likeable young fellow enlists at the outbreak of the war, leaving his family and sweetheart. He becomes deeply attached to his two buddies, Slim and Bull, played delightfully by Karl Dane and Tim O'Brien. While stationed behind the lines, he falls in love with a French peasant girl, Melisande, and at the conclusion of the war goes home to find conditions changed. It would be unfair to futures audiences to tell the rest of the story. How he works out his destiny is the basis of a powerful and human climax.
King Vidor has reached an exalted cinematic goal with this picture. The film has a martial swing and the rhythm of blended comedy and drama. Its romance and heart interest awaken a response in every spectator in the audience.
John Gilbert is superb as the American doughboy; he has never done anything finer. Renee Adoree plays the part of the French Melisande to perfection. There is something in the love scenes between these two that makes the heart leap. Frequently terrible in its swiftness and emotional quality, "The Big Parade" is not all filled with the almost continuous laughter. The second half shows, more clearly than anything else ever has, its grim realities.

Street of Money Kings
The center of the money power of the United States got the name Wall Street because so many of the large financial establishments are situated on Wall street, New York. This street got its name from the fact that in 1635, under the Dutch governor Peter Stuyvesant, a wall was built there to protect New Amsterdam from attack from the north.

Ancient Played Hockey
That centuries before the beginning of the Christian era the youth of ancient Greece played games almost identical with the field hockey and volleyball of today is shown by bas-reliefs carved on stones unearthed near Athens.

REMUS

Said to Have Tried To Buy the Old Knecht Brewery.

It developed today that George Remus "millionaire bootleg king" now under arrest for the murder of his wife, at one time sought to buy the old Knecht brewery in this city.

A prominent local attorney carried on the negotiations, which were unsatisfactory, and did not know the true name of his client until some weeks later.

The attempt was made several years ago, while Remus was out on a stay of sentence to Atlanta for violation of federal prohibition laws, pending court action on error proceedings.

Remus was accompanied by two men while in this city, one of whom was acquainted with the local lawyer. For obvious reasons, the attorney asked that his name not be mentioned when reciting the story to the News-Advertiser today.

Remus, who was introduced under an assumed name, asked the local attorney to confer with the Scioto Brewing Company, in regard to possible purchase. The company, which had taken over the old Knecht plant, was composed of local men.

Accordingly the attorney got in touch with the local men, who set a figure. The attorney remembers it as "something like $20,000." The price was more than Remus, who was supposed to be strictly a "hard liquor man," desired to pay. Further negotiations were unavailing and eventually Remus and his two companions returned to Cincinnati.

"Some weeks later I saw a picture of Remus in a newspaper account of his incarceration in prison," the attorney explained. "It resembled my client." Shortly afterward, I saw the acquaintance who had introduced him to me, and he admitted that my client had been the bootleg king."—Chillicothe News-Advertiser.

The American Spirit

President Green of the American Federation of Labor was condemning soviet Russia and labor's proposed affiliation with it.

"I hate," he ended, "the soviet spirit of envy and destruction. Give me its direct opposite, the American spirit that says:

"Hats off to the past, coats off to the future!"

Mabel—She's just flirting.
Mae—I think it's much more serious. I saw her inspecting his car.

Fed by Thirteen Rivers

The city of Jackson, Mich., uses electricity generated by the flow of water from 13 rivers. Memorializing the service of all these rivers to the citizens of the community, a bottle containing water from all of them was broken over the entrance of a new headquarters building of the electric light and power company recently. This odd touch in the ceremony by which the building was christened attracted a great deal of attention in Michigan.

When They Heard the News

The Girl—What did your people say when you announced our engagement?
The Boy—Mother exclaimed "mad!" and the governor said the same—backwards.

The Real Trouble

Hub—I wish, my love, you wouldn't finish my sentences for me.

Wife—You talk so slow, dear.
Hub—That isn't the trouble—you listen altogether too fast.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Matter of Meals

While in the largest cities it is a fact that the heaviest meal of the day occurs at night. It is also a fact that in the smaller cities, of 200,000 population and below, the heaviest meal occurs at noon. The reason for this is, of course, that in the largest cities there is an exodus at evening to the suburbs, where the family reunion is held over the dinner table, whereas in the smaller cities people are able to go home to midday lunch.

2000 Miles Farther in 25,243 Less Minutes

THE public thinks of such trains as the "Century" and the "Chief" as being fast. They are.

But it requires over 65,600 minutes for 45 of the world's fastest trains, going in all directions from Chicago, to run 40,000 miles. And these trains get MANY fresh engines, at regular intervals, in order to make this remarkable speed.

Contrast this phenomenal performance of three Auburn fully equipped STOCK cars that ran 42,000 miles in less than 40,435 minutes (exact duplicates in every way of the Auburn cars every Auburn dealer has).

Here is an amazing record of performance, endurance and value never before approached, let alone equalled.

No change of engines for these three stock cars. No favoritism, but the hardest kind of driving, continuously, under American Automobile Association official supervision, on the Atlantic City Speedway.

To even RUN 42,000 continuous miles, at much less speed, would be a tremendous tribute to ANY automobile's efficiency and stamina. That is farther mileage and infinitely harder punishment than any three average private owners impose on their cars in a whole year's service.

But no other car has ever survived an official test of this magnitude and distance. Three Auburn cars DID it, at speeds that overwhelmingly break all records.

Not only that, but we KNOW that Auburn cars can go much farther at even FASTER speed.

The purpose of this test was not speed, altho that is sensational and establishes Auburn supreme in this respect.

The real purpose was to prove in the acid test of this proving grounds that Auburn cars ARE better designed, better built, more efficient, and more durable.

In these highly competitive days of extravagant claims, the public is entitled to the unvarnished truth about the relative value of motor cars.

It is what a car DOES and not what its builders SAY that determines VALUE.

Drive an Auburn Straight Eight and if it does not sell itself you will not be asked to buy.

THE AMERICAN CONSTITUTION

Declared To Be Most Important Document in the World.

The American Constitution is one of the most important documents the world has ever had. Under it a handful of individualists and self-centered political bodies became welded together, to flourish and prosper into the nation that it is, the United States of today. Under it a few thousands of people have become more than a hundred million living together harmoniously.

The Constitution has stood the test of time. Through the years those guiding the destinies of the Republic have found in this remarkable document ample authority with which to meet all problems. Those who framed it 140 years ago were only ordinary human beings, yet in their wisdom or in a wisdom that came to them during the constitutional convention, produced a document which has withstood all onslaught and which has met every test despite the constant change in domestic life.

Yet, as late as 1924, Dr. James J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education, said: "I do not believe there are more than a very limited number of persons, perhaps a hundred, who really know what is in the Constitution of the U. S." Here, then, is a condition which demands attention. During the "Know the Constitution Week" and every other week, through the schools, through public meetings, through the churches and public-spirited organizations, the task of spreading knowledge regarding this fundamental document should be carried forward unceasingly.—Washington Post.

HARTMAN THEATER

The regular fall and winter season at the Hartman theater begins this week with the offering of New York's latest mystery melodrama "FOG" from the pen of John Willard, author of "The Cat and Canary." This thrill of trillers comes to Columbus direct for an entire season's run at the National theater in New York with the original cast and production. The engagement is for the entire week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

For the week beginning Monday, October 17, the Hartman announces one of the most interesting dramas of the entire season, "An American Tragedy" from Theodore Dreiser's celebrated novel of that name. When this play opened last October at the Long Ace theater, New York the critics universally praised the stage version of the powerful and terrific Dreiser story. "The outstanding serious play of the season," said Berns Mantle of the New York News. And the Times Reviewer wrote, "The most outspoken enthusiasm of the season swept the play on to triumph."

It is the Manhattan company that takes the stage at the Hartman, Morgan Farley has the role of Clyde Griffiths the son of street corner evangelists, and Ruth Nugent of the famed Nugent family of actors portrays Roberta, and factory girl.

Patrick Kerney dramatized the work and twelve massive settings are used to depict the story with every detail exactly the same as witnessed during the long and successful run in New York. Mail orders are now being accepted for this most unusual and interesting attraction.

During the week beginning October 24, Patricia Collings will be seen at the Hartman in Sir James M. Barrie's best comedy "What Every Woman Knows," which recently broke all records with a run of 277 performances at the Bijou theater, New York. In her support William A. Brady is sending to Columbus the entire New York company, including Kenneth MacKenna, Ludsden Hare, Selena Johnson, Molly Hicks, Eugene Weber, John Robb and Edward Loeffler.

The management of the Hartman theater personally endorses each of the three plays announced and suggests early mail order reservations.

The Rarer Sort

Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service, said at the Army and Navy club in Washington the other day:

"Young Colonel Lindbergh is remarkable for the nonmercenary character of his ambition. He's ambitious to do better and better work, but he cares nothing about money."

"Now most of us are like Jones. A man said to Jones one day: 'Jones, what would you do if you had $1,000,000?'"

"Do?" said Jones. "Why, I'd do the same as anybody else would do, of course. I'd overwork myself into dyspeptic neurasthenia trying to make it $2,000,000."

LIGHTNING DEMONSTRATION

A demonstration in the manufacture of lighting will be given by representatives of the Ohio Telephone company Tuesday night, October 11, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., in the high school auditorium in cooperation with The Citizens Telephone company and Ohio Utilities company.

The lighting, 800,000 volts of it—will be used to show the effect of lighting discharges into aerial wire plants of the telephone and electric companies. Officials and employees of all wire-using companies in Circleville, Ohio and surrounding territory have been invited to attend.

The Ohio Bell men who will give the demonstration are E. C. Briggs, R. A. Taylor and J. H. Bigham, of Circleville. They will show the light in action, the damage it does and the methods to use in avoiding this damage.

Pupils of the high school and the public are invited to attend. This demonstration is free. 10octd2.

The GAS HEATROLA is a whole-house heater!

THOUSANDS have been waiting for it! A gas-burning heater that would circulate healthful, even warmth to all parts of the small house.

Perhaps you've wanted such a heater to modernize your home.

Now, here it is—the Gas Heatrola. A true Heatrola in every respect—handsome, highly efficient, absolutely safe.

It has the famous Intensi-Fire Air Duct and other Heatrola features plus several new refinements never before offered in a gas heating plant.

Come in! See it! Or telephone and invite our representative to call. The Estate Gas Heatrola is made to order for your needs! Our very liberal deferred-payment plan makes it so easy to own.

The Intensi-Fire Air Duct absorbs and blocks much of the heat that the ordinary heating device allows to escape up the chimney.

He Never Knew The Value Of His Discovery

IN America's tribute to Columbus, there is true appreciation of his achievement. His daring and his genius changed the course of world affairs. Others who followed had his example as a guide.

But Columbus himself could not have known the real value of his feat. His voyage, 435 years ago—his defiance of superstitions and ignorance—his winning to this hemisphere—were great accomplishments.

Columbus showed that vision and faith can overcome all obstacles and accomplish wonders. Here is a lesson for each one today—in business, in home making, in life itself.

In your ventures, this institution stands ready to serve you.

HOW SWINDLERS MARK THEIR PREY

By W. R. MOREHOUSE

Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

IN the field of fake investments suckers are graded according to their reaction to the appeal of glittering schemes. A name or a sucker list of investors may have a valuation anywhere from zero to $100.

If your name is on the list and it is known that you invariably "Investigate Before you Invest," your name is checked to indicate that you are too hard to sell to be worth cultivating further, but if you invest first and investigate afterward, your name is checked to indicate that you are easily swindled and for this reason your name is worth $100,—not to you, but to the owner of the list, for the names of those who invest without investigating are choice prospects and sell readily to promoters.

Certain names on a sucker list are checked to indicate "easy picking," and by this is meant that in addition to being ignorant on investments, those checked are not disposed to ask advice of their banker but go ahead and invest in anything from gold bricks to stock in some proposed company for the exploration of diamond fields on Mars.

Those whose names are listed are what might be called marked investors—investors who have been marked for slaughter—investors who have been marked to have their savings taken from them by unwarranted promises of fabulous riches.

If your name is on the sucker list and you are receiving "wild-cat" literature, be on your guard, for not only one but a whole tribe of "wild-cat" promoters are hot on your trail. If you are skeptical as to the extent to which they will go in order to sell you an interest in their fake schemes the following should prove illuminating, as it itemizes the literature and stationery sent to each name on a certain sucker list of investors. This literature was mailed in 91 different mailings. Each person received:

- 125 envelopes
- 13 one-page letters
- 22 two-page letters
- 6 three-page letters
- 2 four-page letters
- 52 fake newspapers containing fake write-ups
- 39 pieces of highly lurid prospectus material
- 34 return addressed postal cards
- 72 subscription blanks

making a total of 363 pieces of literature weighing 11 pounds and costing approximately $50. In addition to this there were numerous telephone calls and personal interviews.

A person receiving a flood of literature calling attention to certain investment chances has a good reason for watching his step lest he weaken and invest and finally lose his savings. If you are receiving "wild-cat" investment literature it is a good indication that your name is on a sucker list and that it, with other names, is being sold to irresponsible promoters and consequently you may expect to continue to receive literature of the get-rich-quick variety from different sources. If you have ever invested in any one of the investments offered you may rest assured that you are "easy" and it is reasonably certain that as long as you live you will receive bunkum literature.

In reaching for money you may lose what you have.

Some people are so foolish as to feel complimented that so much attention is shown them by men having investments to offer. The facts are, instead of a compliment being paid them, it is a reflection on their ability to judge between a good investment and one of the bunkum variety.

If you want to draw the attention of dealers in sucker lists and of promoters of various kinds, let it be known that you have a savings bank account or good securities and you will be the object of a very vigorous campaign to relieve you of those savings.

It is always well to remember that the irresponsible promoter specializes on swindling savings depositors, exchanging his fake investment for their bank account, which is always worth 100 cents on the dollar.

Of the numerous bait schemes used to swindle the public the trading of equities in real estate is among the most successful from the promoter's standpoint.

From the owner's standpoint a trade usually means getting into deeper water financially—going further into debt.

Here's how it works. If you have an equity in a piece of property, which equity you would like to be relieved of, some promoter will offer to give you credit for your equity on the purchase price of another piece of property or on the purchase of certain hot air stocks.

In the first place, the swindler actually allows you nothing for your equity as he marks up the price of what he is selling you a like amount—with the result that you lose your equity on one hand and get yourself into a less desirable deal on the other. Proceed slowly. If you are approached with a proposition to trade an equity, it may not be exactly what you prefer, but holding the equity is far ahead of holding the sack after some swindler has dealt with you.

CONTESTS AND BETTER FARMING

By D. H. OTIS

American Bankers Association

Much interest has been aroused over the country by ton pig litter contests. In a number of instances these litters have even exceeded two tons. If brood sows were developed so as to produce ton litters, it would be possible to obtain from each litter at least 1,500 pounds dressed meat, which would make it possible to cut down the number of brood sows from 9,000,000 to 6,000,000, a saving of 3,000,000 head.

Egg production per hen is today exceedingly low, amounting to only 56 eggs per year. Under the direction of the colleges of agriculture there have been carried on tests with demonstration farms which show it is easily possible to have flocks able to produce an average of 135 eggs per hen, or more than double the present production. If this were done throughout the United States, we could dispense with 239,000,000 hens, and still maintain the present production of eggs.

The importance and significance of quality production in our live stock is well illustrated in some figures taken from Wisconsin, where over 5,000 cows belonging to cow testing associations have made definite records. Results are shown in the following:

No. of Cows	Av. Lbs. Butterfat	Total Cost	Prod.
1,111	203	$98.50	$ 32
1,478	250	107.00	161
1,226	298	115.00	32.0
747	345	125.00	47.4
333	396	132.00	65.9
122	445	146.00	78.0

It will be noticed that with each increase of about 50 pounds per cow of butterfat, there is an increase of $10.18 per cow in net profit.

The 250 pound cow, which produces 16 profit, represents 6 per cent interest on $266. The 445 pound cow producing 78 profit represents 6 per cent interest on $1,300. In other words, a 445 pound cow will produce a much net profit as five 250 pound cows. Any surplus in dairy products can readily be taken care of by simply eliminating unprofitable or low-producing cows.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Mrs. Benjamin J. Throop will entertain the Circleville Tuesday evening Bridge club to a luncheon at the Columbus Country club Tuesday noon.

A most enjoyable time was had Sunday, October 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss near Robtown, when a number of relatives and friends gathered to help Francis celebrate his birthday anniversary. A bountiful dinner was served at the noon hour to which all did ample justice. The afternoon was spent in playing games and social conversation and in the evening they all departed to their homes declaring the day well spent and wishing Francis many more happy birthday anniversaries. Those who enjoyed the day were: Mr. and Mrs. William Purcell and sons; George, Ralph, Frank and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Breckenridge and daughter, Doris, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barthelmas and sons Luther and Charles, and daughter, Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor and daughter, Martha, Mrs. Mabel Stewart and daughter, Lois, Miss Ethel Hanning, Miss Helen McAvoy, Miss Daisy Brooks, all of Columbus; Mr. Harry Radcliffe, of Fox; Mrs. William Furniss, Miss Bessie Hinton and daughters; Mary and Bernice and sons, Frederick and Walter, of Darbyville; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Furniss and children; Russell, Esther and Freda, Flo, of Clarksburg and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and little son, Francis Harold.

About 120 guests responded to the invitations sent out to a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Geraldine Dennis, Mrs. Edna Liston and Mrs. Lulu Sheets at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Sheets in honor of Mrs. Clark Dennis, nee Miss Ellen Brigner, a recent bride. After the many beautiful and useful presents were opened a dainty two course luncheon was served by seven girls; Mrs. Helen Phillips, Miss Dorothy Porter, Miss Golda Dawson, Miss Julia Hosler, Miss Charlotte Knapp, Miss Frances Brigner and Miss Geraldine Dennis. The rooms were artistically decorated thruout with the Hal-loween colors of black and gold paper with marigolds and dahlias in large vase bouquets. A large table was arranged for the display of presents in the center of the dining room over which an umbrella of black and gold crepe paper was suspended from the ceiling resting in a tall black and gold vase of the marigolds and dahlias. The three hostesses wore black dresses with shoulder bouquets of black and gold matching the color scheme. All departed wishing Ellen many years of happiness.
